

By ALL Means One Bedroom in American Walnut

No modern finished home is complete without a bedroom of American Walnut. Favored, indeed, is the guest to whom is assigned this chamber of delight.

The graceful lines of the different pieces will please you. Also the handy drawers in Chiffonier and Dresser. The dust-proof construction, the smoothness in which they run and the fine quality of French plate mirrors you will appreciate.

And then, you'll be surprised when we tell you how little the expense will be to put these pieces in your home. In this suite is not just what you have in mind, come in and see the many other patterns and designs in various woods and finishes that we have in stock.

Tell It to Us---

When you want something you think a drug store should have and you are not just sure where to go for it, "tell it to us" first. We carry lots of things which we are not capable of displaying. We carry many things which other drug stores do not attempt. If, by the way, there is anything in our line which we do not have, tell us your wants, and we will get it for you.

TALK OF THE TOWN

See Abbott's line of suits and coats. Mrs. George Gault of Plainfield was a visitor in the city yesterday.

Thomas Abare is spending several days in North Adams, Mass., on business.

Mrs. Mary Scott of Middlebury is visiting for a few days with friends in the city.

Antonio Broggi of Summer street is passing a few days in Morrisville on business.

William Kelly left last night for Boston, where he will pass the week end with friends.

There will be an Easter rehearsal Saturday at the Baptist church; little ones at 2:30, juniors at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Julia Kendrick of Prospect street left yesterday for Bethel, where she is visiting relatives for a few days.

The class play, for which seniors at Spaulding high school have been rehearsing, will be given in assembly hall on the evening of April 12.

J. H. L. Carr of Liberty street, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, was able to sit up for a short time yesterday.

E. J. Badger returned to-day to his home in Walden, after passing a few days with his brother, A. W. Badger of Eastern avenue.

George Sedor returned last evening to his home in Hartford, Conn., after spending a short visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sedor of Division street.

The condition of Mrs. M. G. Sawyer, a sister of A. B. Gono of this city, who submitted to a serious surgical operation at the Boston hospital in November some weeks ago, is reported to be improving steadily.

Perley Haskett, who has been visiting at his home on North Main street during the past week on a leave of absence, returned last evening to Princeton, N. J., where he is pursuing a special course as a member of the United States aviation corps.

Robins are arriving daily, according to the observations of bird lovers, and the morning chorus of redbreasts, with the succession of spring-like days, is growing in proportion. A number of other species have been discerned in the natural bird sanctuary in Averill park, north of Elmwood cemetery.

Elliott Pirie, who was unexpectedly called back to his ship, the U. S. S. Rhode Island, early in the week, returned to Barre last night to complete his leave of absence. While preparing for examinations which may admit him to the U. S. naval academy, he is staying in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Pirie of Graniteville.

Rangers' field at North Barre is rapidly losing its semblance of a baseball field, the land having been placed in the hands of Angelo Scampini, as agent for the Italian Athletic club, to dispose of. Yesterday carpenters began the work of raising the grandstand, and to-day much valuable timber salvaged therefrom was removed from the park.

The funeral of Merritt Clark, news of whose death was received here last Sunday, was held in Dorchester, Mass., on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Clark's death was due to pneumonia. He leaves his wife, who is in a fragile health, and a granddaughter of Mrs. B. O. Wood of Prospect street. Albert Wood attended the funeral.

Barre friends of Eleazer J. Dole, a former instructor at Spaulding high school, will be interested to learn that he has been commissioned a second lieutenant. Recently he visited in Barre and was passing several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Dole, in Danville, where he has received orders to report for duty at Carlisle Field, Aerodrome, Fla.

Frost to the depth of six feet, six inches was discovered by water department laborers who have been sinking a shaft in Depot square. Excavations were made in an effort to locate the cause of a leak, but picks and crowbars were in use constantly, as the frost had penetrated to the depth of the water pipe. A defective valve, it was learned, has been responsible for the trouble.

William McCaffrey, a former clerk at the Drown pharmacy, is now in France, according to information received by his friends here. Private McCaffrey was stationed at Camp Devens for several months previous to his departure overseas.

Carroll Ordway, formerly employed by the Oldsmobile company, has reached France, and it is reported that Thomas Carroll, who enlisted in the aviation corps last fall, has reported for duty overseas.

The income tax man at city hall is putting in one of the busiest weeks of his career, as the almost continuous stream of taxpayers anxious to settle their accounts with the government indicates from day to day. Each taxpayer is entitled to some degree of privacy, so it happens that the corridor leading from the assessors' office, where the collector is located, is used as a waiting room. Chairs have been placed in the corridor for the accommodation of women who have to wait.

Mrs. Charles A. Brown of Jefferson street left the city last evening for Mount Pleasant, Mich., where she was called by the sudden death of her niece, Mrs. B. Gardner Chase, who passed away yesterday morning. She was accompanied from St. Albans by her sister, Mrs. H. W. Bevins. Mrs. Chase formerly resided in St. Albans and Enosburg Falls, and as Miss Susan Coburn will be remembered in Barre as a frequent visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Poultry fanciers in this city will be interested to learn of the appointment of George P. Coffin of Freeport, Me., to a position of inspector of poultry and eggs at the salary of $1,500 per year by the civil service commission. Mr. Coffin has judged at the past two exhibitions of the Vermont Poultry association held in this city and his ability along this line has been shown by his work at these exhibitions. Mr. Coffin is the secretary of the Freeport Poultry association and is also a member of the Maine legislature.

Youthful pilferers have lately engaged in stripping everything loose from the corridor at the federal building, and while attaches at the postoffice have exercised due vigilance in an effort to catch the looters, exact information as to their identities was not forthcoming until yesterday. A small boy in the grades appeared at school with a thick bundle of "scribble" paper. The teacher's curiosity was aroused, and upon investigating she observed that the reverse side of each sheet bore advertising of a patriotic nature. A schoolroom third degree followed, and the youngster confessed to the teacher that the child to the postoffice, there was a general understanding property was restored, and it was learned that recently ink wells, pens, paper, etc., seem to have been regarded by the youngsters of the city as legitimate loot. It is believed that the thefts from the federal building will be less frequent, following revelations of the past few days.

More Than One Might Expect

A visit now to most Coat and Suit shops brings out striking facts. Tailoring, as it was before the war called the man-tailors, can only be had at the highest prices. Just the right kind of tailoring and finish are hard to find in many departments. Colors show the effect of a shortage of dyes. Fabrics that are really All-Wool are scarce.

It is good to know, in the face of these conditions, that the Coat or Suit you buy is All Wool: that the manufacturers have had the foresight and resources to minimize the war conditions.

See our line of stunning Coats and Suits tailored in the new, authentic, slender lines of to-day.

Many Easter Suggestions

Of course, the first and most important thing a lady thinks of in connection with Easter is her Spring or Easter Hat. She is not well dressed without this essential headgear. In our Ready-to-Wear Department, we can show you a large assortment of the new and popular Easter Hats. Every day now is bringing new models into the department. We are anxious you should see the line.

Suits and Coats

In the Suits you will find models that are built for service and style. Suits that are made along conservative lines, with a fullness at the waist line and a style that will appeal to all. In selecting your Suit, one of the essentials to a good wearing Suit is the tailoring. A good tailored Suit or Coat gives the wearer comfort and style as long as she wears the garment. See our line of Suits and Coats, the largest line in this section.

New Silk Petticoats

You will want a new Petticoat for spring. We are now showing an exceptional line of these new models. One special value that is very popular is a Linen and Silk in the changeable effects at only $2.50. This is an unusually good, serviceable Petticoat.

The new Collars to dress up the coat or dress are here for your inspection and selection.

You should make your Glove selection early, as Gloves are scarce and slow in coming into the market.

Our assortment of Silk and Muslin Undergarments is now complete and of a style and finish that is unusually good.

Corsets for Easter

You will want a new Corset for your Easter dress or suit. The Royal Worcester, R. & G. and Nemo makes are here in all the new and best models. We would be pleased to have you see the models, and we feel you will be pleased with your selection.

Winter is severe and mortality great and growing. There is no time to lose. Thousands of children may be saved. (Signed) Gates (president of Robert college), Huntington (dean of Robert college), Fowle (American attaché Swedish legation).

Fifteen young women from this city enjoyed a barge ride to East Barre last evening, when they participated in a shower party given at the home of Kimball Cooney in honor of Miss Iris Dow, who is to be married to Fred Seales.

The prospective bride was the recipient of much linen, and other gifts included a handsome chest of silver from the boarders at the Eureka restaurant. During the evening there was an impromptu program with vocal solos by Miss Katherine Reid, Miss Gamache, a vocal duet by Miss McLaughlin and Miss Mitchell, and toasts by Mrs. Staples and Miss Lillian Malvern. Light refreshments were served.

TALK OF THE TOWN

See those new petticoats at Abbott's. Quality luncheons are served at Marion's North Main street restaurant. Try "Marion service" if you are looking for wholesome food. A few more table boarders can be accommodated.

Mrs. James S. Milne and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter S. Milne, of Liberty street, left the city last evening for Virginia, where they are to meet the latter's husband, who enlisted several months ago in the aviation section of the signal corps. Private Milne has been stationed in San Antonio, Tex., for some time, but expects to go overseas shortly.

Auction sale of livery business. My physicians have ordered me to a sanatorium for treatment at once, but before going I feel obliged to close out my livery business, so will sell the same at public auction on Saturday, March 30, at my stable in Barre. I regret very much to be obliged to take this step, as I have built up a very prosperous and profitable business, but my physicians inform me that my mind must be free from business matters. Look for further ad. next week. James Gow.

Letters remaining unclaimed for at the Barre postoffice for the week ending March 21 were:

Men—Henry Badger, J. H. Drury, William Deway, B. Frank Jakeman, Thomas J. Murphy, Joseph Marioni, Lewis Marshall, F. W. Nichols.

Women—Mrs. William Rogers, Mrs. George Robinson.
